

Transfer WEB Sites

ASSIST: <http://www.assist.org/>

Provides the most accurate and up-to-date information available about University of California (UC) and California State University (CSU) transferable course lists, IGETC, CSU General Education Requirements, or General Education Requirements specific to the individual university, majors, and course equivalencies. It displays reports of how course credits earned at a California community college can be applied when transferred to a UC or CSU campus. It also assists students with searching schools by majors and find admission requirements.

CSU MENTOR:

<http://www.csumentor.org/> is an online resource designed to help students and their families learn about the CSU system, select a CSU campus to attend, plan to finance higher education, and apply for admission.

UC PATHWAYS:

<http://www.ucop.edu/pathways/> PATHWAYS is the University of California's online undergraduate admission information and application network. It is an online resource designed to help students and their families learn about the UC system, select a UC campus to attend, plan to finance higher education, and apply for admission.

COLLEGEVIEW:

<http://www.collegeview.com/> College View offers campus tours, career and minority information, and profiles of over 3,800 universities within the United States. College View also offers college applications, minority scholarship search, and college admissions information.

Universities in the U.S:

<http://www.utexas.edu/world/univ/state/>

BrainTrack, Universities, Colleges and

Careers: Search for universities in the world

<http://www.braintrack.com/>

College Navigator: is an online resource to assist students searching for universities by level, and institution type.

<http://nces.ed.gov/collegenavigator/>

CALIFORNIA COLLEGES:

<http://www.californiacolleges.edu/>

This web site has been developed in collaboration with the CSU, UC, California Community Colleges, The Association of Independent California Colleges & Universities, and the California Department of Education to allow students to obtain information about higher education opportunities in California. It provides two major functions: (1) College Exploration: including virtual campus tours, criteria searches, and a student-campus matching assistant; (2) Guidance and Counseling: including information on financial aid and admissions planners for first-year and transfer students.

THOMAS PETERSON'S:

<http://www.petersons.com/>

Peterson's provides information about colleges and universities, career schools, graduate programs, distance learning, executive training, private secondary schools, summer opportunities, study abroad, financial aid, test preparation, and career exploration. It helps to connect individuals, national educational institutions, and corporations through its critically acclaimed books, Web sites, online products, and admissions services.

COLLEGE SOURCE ONLINE:

<http://www.collegesource.org/>

College Source Online provides information about colleges and universities within the United States and internationally, as well as, resources on testing, career, college planning, and financial aid.

College Majors:

<http://www.collegemajors101.com/>

College Majors is a resource to bring information about different college majors and related careers.